

Golf for a cause

Ahmedabad Mirror Bureau
am.sports@indiatimes.com

Winning and losing becomes irrelevant when 110 golfers join hands for a cause. The fourth edition of the Round Table Golf Classic saw golfers teeing off for a noble cause: to add classrooms in the Thaltej Anganwadi School.

The initiative of Round Table India was to educate the underprivileged children in the country and the earlier editions helped Municipal School No. 6 in Paldi, which increased its student capacity from 83 to 350 in last three years.

Despite being a charity event held at the Kensville Golf and Country Club in stableford format, the competitiveness part of the game was not lost as the result shows.

In the Category 0-14, Deepak Rathore edged out Ragesh Vasa by a solitary point. Deepak scored 38 while Ragesh managed 37 points.

It was the similar case in the Category 25-36, where Madhur Todi (37 points) came out was the winner. Malai Dalal came in second with 36 points.

Rajiv Vasa had best gross score

The intensity was, however, highlighted in the Category 15-24 where Ramdev Jadeja and Rohit Patel scored 40 points each. But it was his better back nine that help Ramdev pipped Rohit for the title.

With 80 points, Rajiv Vasa had the best gross score while Paras Adukia was adjusted as Best Tabler with 36 points.